March/April Newsletter

We're Going to Cambodia!

We have quite a few missionaries serving in a specific area of Cambodia. In our last newsletter, we provided an estimated cost for traveling there to minister to them in person. We have a huge praise! The Lord provided almost half of this fund in a single donation. If the Lord impresses upon you to contribute, please donate specifically to the travel fund and make a note on the gift that it is for Cambodia. We know that we are walking into answered prayers that have been prayed for the past decade and that we are seeing more of God's promises to take us all over the globe to minister.

Other Ministry Travel

Mark and Dallas spoke and ministered to church leadership on Friday evening before leading a day long marriage conference in Florida at the end of January. This was a powerful time, and we are grateful that God is opening doors.

We kept asking God what material we could eliminate in preparation because we knew it was a LOT to cover in that amount of time. To our surprise, He wouldn't let us cut any of it. There truly was something for each one that came.

It was encouraging to have participants seek us out when we attended church the next day just to tell us which specific part of the material ministered to them. It was also fun to get to have Juan and Yvonne with us this time as they helped with the book table and visited with those that stopped by.

We have been privileged to travel to the East and West Coasts in the last two months. Most recently returning from a trip to California where we were invited to facilitate two days of training for missionaries going onto the field. They will be serving in the Dominican Republic and Nicaragua.

Several members of the office staff and Board members were present for various parts of the training or corporate meals, and we were also able to meet some of their spouses during our time there. One of these couples hosted us for the evening meal for two of the nights during our visit. At the end of our scheduled time, we were able to participate in the missionaries' commissioning service.

The next morning we drove to spend time with our volunteer Irma and her husband Danny. Just like you'll see in the notes under Henslee Happenings for other meals, we stayed until the restaurant staff indicated that they were ready to close up.

What's Next?

We've been invited to be one of the presenting teams for a mini conference at our local church at the end of March. We're mindful that God is having us develop material that can be modified slightly and reused in various contexts and settings.

Then we'll be traveling to Louisiana for our Board retreat. We try to do this annually, however, we haven't been able to get together in person for two years. Zoom is a wonderful invention; it simply doesn't replace being able to pray and eat together, give hugs, etc.

Henslee Happenings

We did go to the beach while we were in Florida, although as you can tell from our attire, it was cold! That being the case, we drove to the beach, got out for the picture, and then promptly got back in the car. They set record lows while we were there.

We were also able to enjoy meals with several different couples that were in the area. Of course, in true Henslee fashion, we stayed until closing time for two of those meals. What can we say? We like to invest in relationships.

Juan and Yvonne were a huge help and blessing. They transported the books to the venue in addition to helping us unpack, set up, and then repack later. We sold more children's books at this event than all of last year.

In California, we took our planned buffer day to go visit the Sequoia National Forest. There was snow (God blessed us with cooler temperatures on both coasts and let us play in the snow in CA) in addition to looking at those massive trees. There's a future devotional thought coming from some of the information we learned on our excursion.

Prayer Points

Praises

We are continuing to express gratitude and thankfulness as we walk into the answers to prayers that have been spoken over the last decade for the growth of the ministry!

Safety while traveling and the impact of teaching sessions. The marriage conference in Florida had 240 participants. We are thankful that the Lord allowed us to partner with Him in strengthening these unions.

Additionally, we are thanking the Lord that the ministry training in California will have exponential impact as these new missionaries go into their specific mission fields, meet, and minister to people that we never will.

The ladies' Recalibrate! group has run for eight weeks now, and the participants have completed 1/3 of the material. There are encouraging reports of how meaningful the group is to them, and other ladies ready to start a new cohort when we are able!

Requests

Provision of the remaining funds needed to travel to Cambodia; the trip is slightly more than originally estimated as we look at the actual cost of flights.

Wisdom for setting priorities as we schedule the itinerary of events and meetings while in Cambodia.

Our podcast notifications indicated quite a surge of interest. Please pray that God would help those who need the teachings to find them easily.

Please continue to ask God to open doors for additional speaking and training engagements for July through November of this year and that He prompt discussions for scheduling events during the first half of 2027.

There are of course more writing projects to be started and completed so we appreciate your prayers regarding the timing of each of these.

If this is your first newsletter, welcome. We have been working towards making sure that each of our contacts has the opportunity to keep up with what the ministry is doing. If you want to pass our newsletter on to someone else who might be interested in signing up for newsletters, please feel free to do so. We also recognize that newsletters just might not quite be your cup of tea. If the latter is the case, feel free to update your preferences at the bottom of this issue.
